HOUSEWARES

More than 80 years ago Karl Grünewald established ELO, a company to sell cookware in Spabrücken, located in the beautiful countryside between Frankfurt and Cologne in Germany. With his special truck he drove to the small villages around Spabrücken and sold high quality cookware to the people living in this region.

To this day the desire to supply high quality cookware to the market still remains and ELO has become a leading brand and supplier of cookware across the world with a network of offices in Europe, Asia and the Far East.

ELO cookware, whether made from stainless steel, enamel or aluminium, combines functional and elegant design delivering a cooking experience that brings pleasure and success!
